

Scholarship Application Form

Thank you for your interest in attending Psychedelic Science in the 21st Century. MAPS is awarding up to 10 scholarships for each 90 paid registrations. The scholarship registration is to encourage people to attend who might otherwise be unable to attend. This scholarship application will be used to help the Psychedelic Science scholarship committee determine to whom to provide discounted scholarship registrations.

Scholarships will be awarded to people of limited financial means who have a demonstrated interest in psychedelic science or psychedelic psychotherapy. Decisions will be made based on four additional factors of equal consideration. Preference will be given to: 1) people who belong to groups that are historically underrepresented in academic discourse on psychedelics such as women, indigenous people, and people of color, 2) international attendees, students, senior citizens, veterans, disabled persons, or people who have not yet been to a conference on psychedelics, 3) people who have applied to present and been accepted, and, 4) individuals who are representing an allied organization.

The priority deadline for scholarship submission is December 31. If you apply for a scholarship by December 31 and your application is not accepted, we will let you purchase a registration at the early bird price any time before March 15.

We will accept scholarship applications on a rolling basis after December 31. We will reward the next round of scholarships by March 6, 2010, which means that if you are still not awarded a scholarship you can purchase a regular registration before March 15. Scholarship applications submitted after March 6 will be awarded based on availability.

If you are given the scholarship rate, MAPS will email you a coupon code and a link to a page on the MAPS webstore where you can purchase your registration.**

You will be responsible for your own transportation and lodging during the conference. MAPS is unable to offer any discounts on lodging at the Holiday Inn, but the rooms are reasonably priced and include several meals. If you choose to stay elsewhere, but wish to eat meals at the conference hotel, they can be purchased for $20/meal (this does not include the Shulgin benefit reception on Saturday night). Double occupancy rooms cost $199 at the Holiday Inn and include meals for two people. If you were to share a room with more than two people, then each additional person would need to pay $20/meal in order to dine at conference meals (excluding the benefit dinner on Saturday night).
