The Psychedelic Review

Vol. 1 1964 No. 3

Aldous Huxley Memorial Issue

Contents

EDITORIALS .................................................. 262

A Tribute to Aldous Huxley ................. Gerald Heard 263

Aldous Huxley—A Tribute ..................... Huston Smith 264

Some Remembrances of Aldous Huxley ...... Alan Watts 265

The Last Message of Aldous Huxley ...... Timothy Leary 267

NOTES ON THE PRESENT STATUS OF OLOLITUQUI AND THE OTHER
HALLUCINOGENS OF MEXICO ............... R. Gordon Wasson 275

THE ACTIVE PRINCIPLES OF THE SEEDS OF RIVEA CORYMBOSA AND IPOMOEA VIOLACEA
Albert Hofmann 302

A UTERINE STIMULANT EFFECT OF EXTRACTS OF MORNING GLORY SEEDS
Ara H. Der Marderosian, Anthony M. Guarino,
John J. De Feo and Heber W. Youngken, Jr. 317

THE RELIGIOUS EXPERIENCE:
ITS PRODUCTION AND INTERPRETATION .... Timothy Leary 324

POEM .. from the Maximus Poems .......... Charles Olson 347

COMMUNICATIONS:
AN OPEN LETTER TO MR. JOE K. ADAMS .... Lynn Sagan 354

BOOK REVIEWS ........................................... 357

BOOKS RECEIVED ...................................... 370

CONTRIBUTORS ........................................... Cover 261

CONTRIBUTORS

Joe K. Adams, Ph.D., is a practicing clinical psychologist in Palo Alto, Calif. . Gary M. Fisher, Ph.D., is a practicing clinical psychologist in Los Angeles. . Sir Julian Huxley, world-famous biologist and former director-general of UNESCO, is author of several books on evolution. Timothy Leary, Ph.D., is president of the International Federation for Internal Freedom. . Richard Evans Schultes, Ph.D., is Curator of Economic Botany, Botanical Museum of Harvard University. . Frederick Swain has been associated for many years with Vedanta Ashram in La Crescenta, Calif. .
Mary Barnard is a writer and Greek scholar residing in Vancouver, Washington.

The Review welcomes advertising. It especially welcomes comments and reactions from its readers, who are invited to submit their opinions, ideas, and criticisms for either private communication or publication.
—The Editors.